

Beyond the Framework Human

*Welcome to beyond the framework human – tomorrow winds our ways with greater bond
And ties us to a space that God has made.*

In the recesses of the mind you'll find adventure.
Stretch it out so all may see it clear;
And know beyond the framework of your body
The inner heart from which the soul appears.

What lies beyond the people that we are –
Is the awesome dwelling of the Son.
You and I and He are all that matter,
And what we do to, and with each one.

Speak! I want to hear and understand,
All that guides the person who is you.
That I may grow to know life in that knowing,
And gain more knowledge of the universal truths.

All the reality we own is not outside –
The things that rot or fade away.
Only the human soul within,
Is what we own of each and every day.

If I am secure in I and God,
The rest of what matters is in you,
A threefold cord is rarely broken -
Those are golden yet they are too few.

What follows is living free from bondage;
A life that is woven and complete -
When life itself is utmost in our minds,
Nothing left but the tying of the Cord.

Adventure was within
In simplicity of life and love of man.
Strengthen the threefold cord
Bind it like a golden skein.

If you tie it beyond the framework human,
You beget love there once again.

Lori Tsutsui